

“Take a group of women, a book a month, marinate liberally with wine and sprinkle in a few great road trips and what do you get? Reading Between the Wines, the feel good read of the year.”

Learn how a group of Samia women changed the face of a traditional Book Club and parlayed a monthly meeting into an amazing recipe for exciting adventures in friendship and travel. The three authors – Perry Jongsma, Pat Maaten and Kathleen Mundy – weave a tale about the book club’s humble beginnings and how the evolution of a traveling book club immersed. With a surprise around every corner, this page turner will boost women’s spirits and give credibility to the need we all have for time to be ourselves.

The book Reading Between the Wines details the process of helping busy women foster friendships, experience escapades and laugh till their cheeks ache without sacrificing family time, breaking the bank or changing careers.

“How can I be in a book club like yours?” What started as a simple question to their group of traveling book club members by tourists in New York has developed into a roadmap for busy women. Reading Between the Wines showcases their favourite book club meetings, their book list and top reads, exciting getaway itineraries and fabulous recipes for themed bites & bevies. With their step by step blueprint guides you can create your own unique book club, plan surprise getaways and host great meetings.
